

The Bear's Barn - Hartington Derbyshire

Hartington is a pretty little village on the edge of Derbyshire bordering Staffordshire. The village supports a number of local industries including farming, production of the famous Hartington Stilton, Rookes Pottery and a thriving summer tourist trade. It is ideally located for walking, cycling or site seeing.

Opposite the Barn you will find the start of the Wolfescote and Beresford Dale walks, 2 miles up the road the Tissington Trail provides excellent cycling, as does the Manifold Valley 3 miles away. The village is only 10 miles from the spa town of Buxton, and market towns of Bakewell and Ashbourne. For the Pride and Prejudice enthusiast we have Chatsworth House (allow a good day) Haddon Hall, Lyme Park and Sudbury Hall. If you want a bargain then visit the many Mill shops in the area, our favourites are the Denby Pottery Factory and the Peak Village at Rowsley. Further afield you can visit the many potteries at Stoke-on-Trent. For Rail enthusiasts we have Peak Rail at Rowsley and Wirksworth Ecclestone railway. If you want a good meal out there are pubs and tearooms in the village, plus numerous recommendations from previous visitors in our visitor book.

The barn is part of a converted two-storey barn, providing spacious accommodation for two adults. Comprising a large living room, kitchen with dining area, bedroom with a four-poster bed, bathroom with bath and electric shower over the bath.

Double glazed with heating via storage heaters on heatwise system. Electric cooker, microwave, combined washer/dryer, TV with FreeSat, DVD player and a CD/radio. Under-stairs cupboard outside for cycle storage. Private car parking and local shops and pubs within a one minute walk.

All bedding (duvets), towels provided and electricity is included in the rental.

Non-smokers only. Sorry, no children or pets. Whole weeks only starting on a Saturday.

To check availability, contact Linda Blackmore on 0115 914 5808.

Visit our website at <http://www.peakdistrictcottages.net>

or email us at bookings@peakdistrictcottages.net

The Bear's Barn - Hartington Derbyshire